PART IV, SECTION A, LINE 1

In 2023, the Lettie Pate Whitehead Foundation supported 194 schools and colleges and 16 senior care institutions. The will that created the Foundation designates those supported organizations by class, restricting support to "established educational institutions of good standing" that provide "proper and adequate education...to poor and deserving Christian girls" and "established hospitals or institutions for indigent Christian women" in nine southeastern states. No supported organizations are named in the Foundation's governing documents because the supported organizations are designated by class and the Foundation has maintained historic and continuing relationships with its supported organizations since it was created in 1953. Twenty-one of the supported organizations have received annual support since 1954 when the Foundation's grants program was limited only to institutions in Georgia, Virginia, and North Carolina. An additional 44 institutions from Alabama, Florida, Louisiana, Mississippi, South Carolina, and Tennessee have received annual support since 1972 when the Foundation expanded its programs to those other states. Almost all supported organizations have received annual support from the Foundation for about 30 years. The Internal Revenue Service recognized the significance of these historic and continuing relationships when it designated the Foundation as a 509(a)(3) supporting organization in 1991.

PART IV, SECTION A, LINE 5a

the Foundation's list of supported organizations is rare and always predicated on an objective change in status such as merger, closure, loss of accreditation, a fundamental change in programs or priorities by the supported organization, or voluntary withdrawal. Similarly, new organizations are rarely added to the Foundation's grants program and only after the Foundation's assets have grown to a level that can support an additional institution on a permanent basis while still growing support for existing supported organizations.

The University of Tennessee Southern [EIN: 62-6001636] withdrew from the Foundation's scholarship program and returned $57,000 in unspent grant funds in January 2023. Martin Methodist College, which became a supported organization in 2007, joined the University of Tennessee system in 2021 and became the University of Tennessee Southern. In 2022, the school indicated it could not administer grant funds consistent with the Foundation's requirements. After exploring potential accommodations, the school determined it could not comply and returned unallocated funds remaining from the Foundation's scholarship grant for the 2022-23 academic year.

Atlanta Association for Convalescent Aged Persons Inc. [EIN: 58-0593384] became a supported organization in 2023. Atlanta Association for Convalescent Aged Persons is a senior care facility serving residents with deep financial need consistent with other supported organizations in the Foundation's senior care portfolio.

The Foundation was created in accordance with the will of Conkey Pate Whitehead and has operated in accordance with the terms of that will since it was funded in 1953. While the will or governing documents do not contain specific provisions governing the addition or removal of supported organizations, their clear direction about the purposes of the Foundation effectively constrain trustees in selecting new beneficiaries. All organizations supported by the Foundation must 1) provide a proper and adequate education through established educational institutions of good standing for poor and deserving Christian girls or 2) provide proper and adequate care through established hospitals or institutions for indigent Christian women. The will further limits the support to residents and institutions within the states of Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Virginia. Historically, the trustees have interpreted these provisions as directing them to maintain relatively constant or increasing support of a stable set of institutions that are especially likely to serve deserving Christian girls (or indigent women in the case of elderly care institutions) from the designated states as evidenced by their student demographics, scholarship programs or specific education programs.

The process for adding a new organization typically begins with multiple requests from an interested organization, followed by meetings with the institutional leadership and site visits by Foundation staff and/or trustees. The Foundation also conducts independent research on a candidate institution's record for serving and graduating students. The process for adding institutions to the list of supported organizations has not changed since the Foundation received IRS approval to convert from a private foundation to a supporting organization in 1991 and was disclosed as part of that request.

PART IV, SECTION D, LINE 3

Trustees of the Lettie Pate Whitehead Foundation serve as current and former trustees, directors, or emeritus trustees of several supported organizations. Through these overlapping relationships, Foundation trustees are sensitive to the supported organizations' particular financial needs, the organizations' schedules for making awards of financial aid, and their need to maintain a reliable, steadily growing stream of income from the Foundation. Foundation staff and trustees also meet regularly with executive and board leadership of each supported organization. In calendar year 2023 Foundation staff and trustees visited with officers and/or trustees of more than 130 supported organizations, more than one third of which involved visiting a supported organization's campus for a series of conversations.

During meetings with the supported organizations, Foundation staff and trustees discuss key issues impacting higher education and senior care and how the Foundation can be responsive to institutions as they face increasingly challenging operating environments. Foundation trustees actively consider what they learn in these meetings when investing Foundation assets and when making grant decisions.

The Foundation's investment portfolio is designed to keep pace with steadily growing costs in higher education and elderly care. Over time, the Foundation's investment portfolio has produced reliable, steady increases in distributions that have exceeded the rate of inflation and kept close pace with the growth in costs for college and skilled nursing care. Outpacing inflation was challenging in 2023, but the Foundation grew its 2023 grants budget by 8% over the prior year.

The Foundation introduced an Annual Meeting for beneficiaries in January 2017 to provide regular annual updates on the Foundation's investments, grants programs and priorities. Presidents of all Foundation beneficiaries were invited to participate in the 2023 Annual Meetings, which were conducted via webinar. More than 90% of the beneficiaries elected to participate in the 2023 webinars, which was consistent with the attendance rates for the Foundation's first six Annual Meetings. A like number of beneficiaries participated in the Foundation's eighth Annual Meetings in January 2024. The 2023 and 2024 Annual Meeting programs included significant time for beneficiaries to pose questions to the Foundation's officers and trustees, and all questions posed were either answered live on the webinar or in follow-up conversations. Of the 2024 webinars' 529 registered participants, almost 20% completed an anonymous post-meeting survey in which they provided feedback about the Annual Meeting format and effectiveness and made suggestions for the 2024 meeting.

As of December 31, 2022 the Foundation owned 18,636,929 shares of The Coca-Cola Company common stock. These represent approximately .43% of the total 4,328 million shares outstanding. The fair value computed on the per-share price is not necessarily what the Foundation would receive if a significant portion of the stock were sold because of the Foundation's large holding. The Foundation engaged an independent valuation consultant who calculated a blockage discount factor of 3.6%. The average monthly fair value of the shares based on the per-share price was $1,224,730,295 and the blockage discount was $44,090,291.

PART V, SECTION D, LINE 8

The Foundation provided 10% or more of the total private financial aid raised by at least 124 of its supported organizations. This number represents only those schools who verified the percentage of total private financial aid raised; the actual number of schools to which the Foundation provided 10% or more of the total private financial aid budget was likely greater. Grants made to these schools comprise more than half of the Foundation's distributions to schools in 2023. In many instances, the Foundation provides more than 50% of a supported organization's total private financial aid budget.

For each supported organization, the loss of the Foundation's support would be a devastating blow to their respective financial aid programs particularly at this time when schools report that attracting need-based financial aid is their top priority. Consequently, each school has a real and substantial interest in being attentive to the operations of the Foundation.

Treasury Regulations indicate that an organization's attentiveness should be determined not only in light of the total number of dollars provided but in light of the length of time over which support has been provided. In many other cases, private scholarship support is raised on an annual basis from various, episodic donors who may make one-time or infrequent gifts to a school. In contrast, the Foundation's support is far more significant to its supported organizations because unlike other sources of private funding, it can be counted on year after year, making the total value to the schools of maintaining a strong relationship with the Foundation that much greater.

The Foundation's supported organizations would struggle to replace a loss of the Foundation's funding and would likely need to reduce scholarship programs in that event. Reducing or eliminating grants is particularly devastating when those grants support scholarships because those scholarships usually entail four-year commitments. Current enrolled students receiving Lettie Pate Whitehead scholarships may have to withdraw from school if the Foundation terminates its funding. As a result, the supported organizations have a very real and vested interest in monitoring the activities of the Foundation and ensuring that its support continues.

REFUND OF PRIOR YEAR CONTRIBUTION

Schedule D, Part XII, line 2d

Refund of prior year contribution- The University of Tennessee Southern [EIN: 62-6001636] withdrew from the Foundation's scholarship program and returned $57,000 in unspent grant funds in January 2023. Martin Methodist College, which became a supported organization in 2007, joined the University of Tennessee system in 2021 and became the University of Tennessee Southern. In 2022, the school indicated it could not administer grant funds consistent with the Foundation's requirements. After exploring potential accommodations, the school determined it could not comply and returned unallocated funds remaining from the Foundation's scholarship grant for the 2022-23 academic year.

Part IV Supplemental Information. Provide the information required in Part I, line 2; Part III, column (b); and any other additional information.

Part I, Line 2:

Supported organizations submit detailed reports annually via the Foundation's website. Reports include information used to verify that funds are being allocated as intended and as allowed by law. Foundation staff and trustees review all reports. Foundation staff and trustees also meet regularly with officers of the supported organizations to ensure that funds are being used as intended. Foundation staff met with over 60% of the supported organizations in 2023. On average, Foundation staff visit the campuses of supported organizations every two to three years.

Officers consult the list of conflicts or potential conflicts when making vendor decisions.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15:

The governing board determines compensation for all officers (including the President, Vice President/Secretary and Treasurer) and all staff. In setting compensation, trustees consult two independent compensation studies showing compensation data at comparable organizations. Individual compensation amounts are evaluated and determined annually as part of the budgeting process conducted at the board's November meeting; 2023 compensation was determined during the November 2022 board meeting.

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19:

The organization's governing documents and audited financial statements are available on the organization's website. The conflict of interest policy is kept by the organization's Secretary and is made available upon request.
